

WE MAY ALTER BUILDINGS REGARDLESS OF THE BYLAW

Judge Taylor Quashes Conviction
Made By The Police Magistrate Some Time Ago

WAS CONTRARY TO BYLAW

But Bylaw Is Not For The Good of The City and Infringes on Private Rights, Declares
Judge

"The appellant by his repairs has beautified the building and has not in any way increased the fire risk."

"Is it not for the good of the city to permit such repairs to improve the looks of the building? I have no hesitancy in saying that such a by-law is not only not for the good of the city, but is derogatory to the city, as well as interfering with the common right which every man has of utilizing his property to the best advantage."

"I will quash the conviction with costs."

Such was the words in which Judge Taylor in a judgment given in the District court this morning, sustained an appeal from the conviction of R. Chisholm by the police magistrate of Edmonton for violation of the by-law regulating the removal and alteration of buildings in the city.

The judgment says: "The appellant wished to make alterations in a wooden building in the first-class fire limits, but was refused permission by the building inspector. Notwithstanding this, he continued to make alterations, and he was convicted and fined for so doing."

"The repairs he wished to make would not prolong the life of the structure, but only improve its appearance."

"The object of the by-law is to prevent fire, and Judge Taylor said that he could conceive that it might be the competent for the council to pass a by-law to prohibit the alteration of a building which might tend to prolong the life of a building or to increase the fire risk."

Oakshott Case.
Judgment was handed out in the District Court this morning in the case of Oakshott vs. the City of Edmonton by His Honor Judge Taylor.

The plaintiff was an employee of the Waterworks Department, and was dismissed for absenting himself without leave.

He sued the Corporation for $50, being one month's salary in lieu of notice, and $25 for wrongful dismissal. The case was dismissed with costs.

Oakshott had been told by the superintendent to take the reading of some water pressure gauges and record them, instead of which he left his employment and did not return to take the readings. His excuse was that the other clerks were in the habit of taking "French leave" and were not dismissed for it.

CHOLERA SPREADS IN SOUTHERN ITALY

But Is Being Checked Somewhat in Russia—Great Precautions
Being Taken

Rome, Aug. 31.—During the past twenty-four hours twelve new cases of cholera and six deaths were reported in Italy.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The mortality in this city attending the cholera epidemic is lessening. Yesterday's figures for the capital were 22 cases, 17 deaths, and 648 persons under observation in the hospitals. Eight new cases developed at Odessa during Sunday and Monday.

Prof. Reim, head of the special sanitary commission which is fighting the pestilence in southern Russia, reported to-day from the province of Volokostol, that the railways of the east had registered 2,319 cases among their passengers and employees. Extraordinary efforts are being made by the introduction of ambulance cars and medical aid to prevent the railroads from distributing the infection.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE

Man Saved Himself From Falling
One Mile in Mine's Shaft

Calmeth, Mich., Aug. 31.—One of the most remarkable escapes from death in the annals of the Lake Superior copper industry occurred yesterday at the Red Jacket shaft of the Calumet and Hecla mine, when Mike B. Sunrich, a climber man, in stepping from a repair cage to the main shaft fell into the shaft. He fell 150 feet before he grasped the rope, saving himself from a fall of a mile to the bottom of the shaft. His hands were badly burned on the wire rope, but otherwise he was unhurt. Sunrich was dangling from the cable when rescued.

THEY ALWAYS PICK ON CITY'S CHARITY

Why Don't People Complain of Others Besides the Isolation
Hospital, Asks M.H.O.

HOW DISEASES SPREAD

Dr. Whitelaw Cites a Case Where Little Girl Brought in Chickenpox—Another Got It

To illustrate the trouble that the authorities of the isolation hospital have to contend with in connection with the danger of patients contracting other infectious diseases while being treated for the one they were admitted for, a case in point which occurred recently may be cited. A man named Joseph H. Cooper, of Isabelle Street, recently had a child suffering from diphtheria taken to the isolation hospital and placed in the diphtheria ward. After the child had been about eight days in the hospital, symptoms of chicken-pox developed, and the child was removed to a semi-private ward.

Mr. Cooper at once claimed that the child contracted the second disease in the hospital, but it was pointed out to him that chicken-pox never develops until fourteen days after it is contracted. Therefore, when Mr. Cooper's child was admitted, she had, besides diphtheria, chicken-pox in an embryonic stage.

Shortly after the admission of the child to the hospital, the little one struck up an acquaintance with another diphtheria patient, and the result was that they were on one occasion allowed to sleep together. This is not an infrequency in the isolation hospital, and it is not considered dangerous, but in this case the child which slept with Mr. Cooper's child showed symptoms of chicken-pox exactly fourteen days from the two sleep together.

This shows that in spite of the utmost vigilance and care that patients suffering from one disease may contract another.

In the case of Frank Hoffman's daughter, who died after a succession of diseases, alleged to have been contracted in the hospital, and Mr. James Farling, who contracted small pox while suffering from measles, the crisis have not been issued, and it is a question whether they will be, as the city's case seems very strong.

Dr. Whitelaw, the medical health officer thinks that people aim at the isolation hospital simply because it is a city institution.

"Why isn't action taken against the other city hospitals, when incidents of this nature arise? They take action against the isolation hospital because it is a city institution, and not a charitable one," said he.

INDIAN DESPERADO HUNTED WITH GUNS

Joseph Blackhand, Escaped From Mounted Police, But Was Caught on Reserve

THREE SHOTS WERE FIRED

And Third One Wounded Him—In Hospital With Constable
on Guard

Prince Albert, Aug. 31.—Joseph Blackhand, a Sioux desperado, is Victoria Hospital with mounted policemen assisting the nurses to care for him. Blackhand was two weeks ago sentenced to a year in jail for horse-stealing by the Duck Lake Court. While waiting for the train the Indian went under guard to a temporary, escorted by special constables Lavolette. Nearby was a fence, and taking a running start Blackhand scaled it and got away.

Saturday he was located on a reserve near Duck Lake, and Sergeant Reeves, Constable Dorin and Lavolette made a night march to the reserve, arriving about daybreak, and started searching.

Sunday as they lifted a blanket Blackhand rolled out from under the canvas side of a tepee and started to run. Police pursued and challenged the Indian to halt, and as he continued Constable Dorin fired twice over the desperado's head. The third shot shattered the Indian's left arm. He stumbled several times, but continued running until he fell and was captured. The Indian who called himself Ahmety Voice, is a crack shot, and a descendant of the Indian band who participated in the Custer Massacre. He had bragged he would never be taken alive, and was within a few feet of the shore where he had concealed his repeating rifle and knife, when brought to earth and it is hardly to be doubted that he had reached his arms unharmed, he could have been the victim of his own weapons.

BACK SALARIES ARE BEING PAID

"I'm not the government," said Mr. Malhot, the engineer in charge of the Goose Island dam to a Capital reporter this morning, "so I can't tell you whether the government are making an appropriation for the continuation of the construction of the dam."

"At present," said the engineer, "the government is paying up everything that they owe. An office has been established in the city, or rather, the office of the public works department, in order to size up the situation."

Mr. Malhot is setting out for the dam in company with Mr. Brophy, an official of the public works department, in order to size up the situation.

BIG INCREASE IN BANK CLEARINGS

Past Month Shows Increase of Nearly a Million Dollars
Over July

CUSTOMS INCREASE, TOO

Homestead Entries Are Greater Than for August of Last Year—
—Other Statistics

The bank clearings for the month of August show a marked increase. This month's amount to $6,274,604, while last month's amounted to $5,831,885.

In the customs department there is also a large increase. The freight customs total amounts to $33,000, last month's being $26,094, an increase of $6,906.

Entries for land at the Department of the Interior for the month of August of the last two years are as follows:

	1910	1909
Homesteads	106	307
Purchased homesteads	6	4
Preemptions	6	1
South African Scrip	9	9
Half Bred Scrip	1	0

The vital statistics for the month are as follows: births, 50; marriages, 33 and deaths, registered, 43. Out of the 43 deaths registered only 23 occurred during the month, as there is sometimes delay in making the registration. The majority of the 23 deaths were infants.

During the past month approximately 150 people have been registered at the Immigration Hall as against 116 for the same month last year.

The proportion of the various nationalities is estimated to be: Americans, 33 1/3 per cent.; Germans 20 per cent.; English, Irish, Scotch and Welsh, 20 per cent. while about 25 per cent come from Scandinavia and Russia, the remainder being from Canada. This, of course, is no indication of the percentage of the Canadians who come to Edmonton, as only an exceptional case goes to the Hall.

Building estimates for the month of August were $1,340,636 as against $99,707 for the same month last year, an increase of about 35 per cent.

FIRE BREAKS OUT AGAIN

Conditions in Washington State Not Very Encouraging

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 31.—Conditions in the fire scorched forests of Western Washington last night are less encouraging than they have been at any other time this season.

Yesterday a rain served only to give the fire fighters a brief breathing spell. Today the fire broke out in the Snoqualmie river district.

It is reported from St. Mary's, Idaho, that only three fires are burning in the region tributary to St. Mary's and that all of these are practically under control.

LURE OF LIBERTY WAS TOO STRONG

Prisoner at Penitentiary Made a Dash for Freedom, But Was Recaptured

WENT OVER TWO MILES

Was Caught By Mounted Police —Prisoner Said Couldn't Resist the Chance

Charles London, alias Rider, formerly of Red Deer, who is serving a seven year sentence in the penitentiary for horse stealing, took advantage of an opening to escape from custody yesterday afternoon, but was recaptured an hour and a half later by Constable Warner, of the Mounted Police, at a point about two and a half miles east along the bank of the river.

London was one of the convicts working on the penitentiary coal mine. At the time of the escape there was only one guard on duty, Guard Schell, the other one being ill.

London and another prisoner were cutting planks for a new air shaft that was being sunk when the former was ordered to go to the mouth of the shaft a distance of 200 feet with message. The convict started off, but when he got to the point which was out of the sight of the guard he made for the bushes. Guard Schell just got a glimpse of him as he plunged into the brush, so did not have time to fire on him. An alarm was quickly sounded and all the other convicts were locked in their cells, so as to enable the guards to take part in the message.

The mounted and city police were at once made acquainted with the facts and six of the former were detailed to assist in the chase. Arriving at the penitentiary the policemen parted.

LICENSE CASE IN SUPREME COURT

Moral Reform League Claims Licenses Should Not Have Been Granted to Hotel at Entwistle

In the Supreme Court this morning before Judge Harvey the license case in connection with the Pembina Hotel Company at Entwistle, was taken up. Several witnesses were called, Wm. Dale, the chief license inspector, and W. P. Arup being among them.

A complaint had been sent by Mr. Fortune of the Moral and Temperance Reform League, protesting that there were insufficient rooms in the Pembina Hotel and also that there were not enough dwelling houses in the town to warrant the license being issued.

Mr. Parlee of Boyle and Parlee, is acting for the defense and Mr. Grant of Bishop & Grant for the complainant. The case was finally dismissed with costs, Judge Harvey deciding that there were a sufficient number of rooms in the hotel and enough dwelling houses to warrant the issue of the license.

The complainant said that the attendants in the hotel were using the rooms and that they were not open to the public for hire—which was proved not to be the case.

EVEN CALGARY TIRES OF BILL CARNEY'S WAYS

RAINING TODAY SO GAMES ARE IMPOSSIBLE—PRESIDENT ECKSTROM WILL LIKELY GIVE YESTERDAY'S GAME TO EDMONTON—THIS WOULD GIVE ESKIMOS CHAMPIONSHIP OF DIVISION B.

(Special to The Daily Capital.)
(By F. H. McPherson)

Calgary, Aug. 31.—The Western Canada baseball situation this morning presents all the varied appearance of a dish of boarding house stew. President Eckstrom late last night issued a decree that three games must be played. As it is raining cats and dogs this morning there is no chance of the games being played until Friday.

Deacon White is making a mighty effort to have yesterday's game awarded to Edmonton by forfeit, thus giving the Eskimos the championship of the second division. Our players were ready on the grounds and Wheeler and Houston were in attendance, but claimed they had no authority to forfeit the games. Umpire Wheeler left for Lethbridge this morning to put the full case before Eckstrom and he has no doubt when the president hears how Carney arbitrarily declared the games off under pretext of wet grounds, he will either give Edmonton the championship of the second division or punish Calgary in some way.

Even the Calgary players are tiring of Carney's ultra smart ways and the Albertans come out this morning and says: "Let us win the games on the diamond and determine which is the better team."

Umpires Wheeler and Houston staid yesterday to your representative that the grounds on Monday and Tuesday were fit to play on. Now before was the silliness of the rule allowing home captains to decide on the fitness of grounds more clearly shown up than in this series.

Edmonton players are heartily sick of kicking their heels around the hotel and just now are hoping Eckstrom will order both teams to Edmonton to start the post-season games.

At present we are taking our stand from what Eckstrom told us over the long-distance phone. The president said, before he had seen Wheeler or Nicholson:

"If that game is forfeited to Edmonton, Edmonton wins the second series. It all depends on whether or not there was an arrangement between the two managers on Tuesday morning."

"What I want to see," said Eckstrom, "is an arrangement between the two managers of the teams to play off the three games, even though it takes until after the close of the season."

Mr. Eckstrom said that if there had been any conference between the two managers earlier in the day about postponing the game, at which a mutual arrangement was made, he would not interfere. If there was no arrangement he felt justified in interfering.

Deacon White said to The Capital: "Tell the people of Edmonton that there was no agreement between Carney and me."

So Eckstrom will most probably lose in the game and the championship of Division B.

Later—Deacon White and your representative got President Eckstrom on the long distance at twelve o'clock and asked him what his decision was. Mr. Eckstrom said that nothing official would be given out until after Umpire Wheeler reached Lethbridge, but from present appearances the outcome will be that yesterday's game will be forfeited to Edmonton and we will win the second division.

The president said that it did not matter if it rained torrents after five o'clock. If it was proved to him the grounds were in fit shape at five he would forfeit the game to Edmonton. In that case it is probable there will be a post season series.

The hard feeling between the players of both teams reached a climax this morning in Chase's place. Carney was blowing about his desire for clean sport when Moose Baxter child. One thing led to another, until finally Moose took off his coat and proceeded to wipe the floor with Carney. The room was filled with Calgary players but they showed no anxiety to meet Moose.

The boys may return to Edmonton tomorrow.

WORLD TO GO TO BOW-WOWS IN A BIG BLAZE TONIGHT!

AND EVERYONE WILL BE BURNED UP EXCEPT HOLY ROLLERS; SO SAYS ONE OF THE ELECT.

Boston, Aug. 31.—Only a few hours more and this old world will go to the denotation bow-wow.

This statement is made on the authority of Elder A. J. Rawson, an apostle of the Holy Roller sect, who declares that the world will come to an end at midnight, to-night. Rawson alleges that this globe will then round out its six thousandth year, and claims Biblical inspiration for proof of his claim that it is due to suffer a great change on that birthday. The tragedy is to begin with fire, against which the puny efforts of our mundane fire brigades will avail naught. All peoples of the earth will be consumed in the big blaze, except those who have been born again, namely the Holy Rollers.

NEW STYLE OF STREET CARS WILL SAVE THE CITY'S MONEY

Meeting of the City Council Was Held Last Night—Routine Business Transacted

The council meeting last night was one of the shortest that has taken place for some time, the adjournment being reached before half past nine. There was nothing very important up for discussion, the adoption of commissioners' reports which this time were very few in number, strange to say, taking up most of the time.

On the advice of the commissioners the single end type of electric car will in the future be used by the city, and the cars that are now under course of construction by the Ottawa Car Company will be changed from the double end system to the single.

The report went on to state: We have now given the above subject our careful consideration and recommend that the change in style of cars be adopted and that from the time these cars are delivered our street railway system be operated on the single end plan. This will involve constructing new loops at the ends of all lines. We estimate that for the system as now operated or as it is about to be extended there would be five such terminals and that the cost of same would be approximately $1000 each if they are used or $1000 each if loops are used. These respective amounts according to which terminal is installed would represent the additional capital expenditure to finish the lines for operation of single end cars.

Notwithstanding the increase in cost of about $24 per car to apply on the six cars now under order there would be a saving in the electric equipment for the six cars of at least $4000, this on the basis of four-motor single end equipments.

You will note from the above that the saving in cost of equipment between double end and single end cars would soon pay for the cost of extra loops at the ends of the lines and the method of operation being simpler and more direct we feel that the service would be improved if operated on that plan. We therefore recommend that the single end plan, be adopted and request authority to proceed.

It was decided that the appeals against special assessment be considered by the council at the next meeting.

Can't Have the Sand

On the recommendation of the commissioners, the application of Messrs. Arthur Schooley and John L. Leslie through their solicitors, Stuart & McQuaid, for the privilege of using the sand along the north bank of the Saskatchewan river, at Laurier Park, was refused as it was considered that to grant the right would endanger the property to damage, besides the fact that the city will ultimately have to use for all material which could be removed from the property.

Accounts to the amount of $999.40.75 were ordered to be paid if found correct.

The commissioners were granted authority to proceed with the construction of a double track on Main street, Strathcona, running north from Whyte avenue. The city of Strathcona desire that the double track be laid this year as it is the intention of Strathcona to pave that block this autumn.

Petitions for boulevarding and plank walk on Fourteenth street and McKenzie avenue were adopted. Permission was allowed Dr. Whitelaw, medical health officer, to attend the convention of the American Health Association to be held in Milwaukee.

Groat Ravine Bridge

In connection with the proposal to build the Groat Ravine bridge with a width of 40 feet, rather than of 20 feet, as at first provided for, the commissioners submitted the offer of Jas. Caruthers, consisting of about 20 acres of land located in Glenora park, in lieu of a cash subscription towards the additional cost of a 40-foot structure, and recommended the acceptance of it, the council agreeing. The recommendation to submit a bylaw covering the additional amount required was also adopted.

A petition from property owners in that part of the Groat estate between 24th and 27th streets for extension of the water supply system in that district was submitted to the council by the commissioners together with a recommendation from them that the work be carried out. The commissioners have investigated the matter and estimate that the revenue from such extensions while insufficient to cover interests and sinking fund on the cost of the extensions would be sufficient at the start to justify the extensions in anticipation of increased revenue within a year or two.

There was a discussion about the future placing of sidewalks in relation to boulevards, and it was finally decided that in future that sidewalks be placed four feet from the property line, with the boulevard outside. It was also decided that a standard width of sidewalks be placed at six feet. The petition for a cement sidewalk on the west side of Fifth street be referred to the commissioners with power to act.

City Solicitor Brown was granted a month's leave of absence.

Mr. Armstrong brought up the matter of allowing policemen and firemen, in the discharge of their duties, free transportation on the street car system. The matter was laid over for future discussion.

FORT GEORGE AS IT IS TO-DAY

It is refreshing to learn from the pen of that facile writer, Mr. J. P. McCondon, Editor of the "Saturday Sunset," his optimistic opinion of the future of the Fort St. George district.

Some months ago, Toronto Saturday night inaugurated a campaign of exposure of sundry swindling promotion schemes. The work was a good and commendable one, while the exposures were confined to real swindles. It was interesting reading. It increased circulation. By and bye the supply of swindles in the East gave out. The standard of Canadian business morality, unfortunately, is such that the number of such schemes is necessarily not large at any one time. But Saturday Night had acquired a taste for blood. Finally it rampaged into British Columbia. It fastened its fangs on a townsite proposition in Fort George. Recently a friend of mine, a man whom I have known and esteemed for many years, joined the Natural Resources Company of Vancouver. When I heard of his affiliation with that company I felt sorry, because I had absorbed some of the general prejudice against it which Saturday's articles had created. He suggested, that as I then contemplated a trip to the Cariboo, I should go and see for myself the situation at Fort George.

I agreed with him, and promised to investigate Fort George thoroughly, and to report as accurately as I could just what I saw.

I spent the best part of a week in and around Fort George. I went over all the lines surveyed by the C.T.P. With guides I went around the town site and over the land adjoining, travelling by wagon, on foot and on horse-back. I went around the entire river front in a canoe. I had a long talk with the Indian chief of the reservation. As to Saturday Night's first statement that the Natural Resources Company do not even own the Fort George townsite, and that the C.T.P. does own it, I can state positively that the Natural Resources Company has registered its townsite with the Provincial Government, and the Government has, according to law, made its selection of one-quarter of the lots on the townsite.

The Natural Resources Company not only owns the name "Fort George" by every moral, legal, physical and any other sort of right, the Natural Resources Company owns Fort George townsite and all that appertains there to.

These facts are on public record, and may be easily obtained by anyone interested. It would be a useless waste of space to answer all the aspirations and misrepresentations which Saturday Night has built upon the three misstatements I have mentioned. Who would go to Fort George now? None but tourists and capitalists or those who have money and want to be on the ground floor when the place comes. At Fort George a three-story hotel building, with grounds is under construction, and will be a comfortable stopping place in the winter. It will be modernly equipped with lighting, heating and water. Work is also going forward on a Presbyterian church, a public hall, a printing office for the Fort George Tribune, which is being removed from South Fort George, a general store, telephone office, and a number of other buildings at a public and private nature. About fifty miles of streets have been cleared on the townsite. Nowhere in British Columbia have I ever seen a finer site for a large city. The site is almost as level as a floor, is easily cleared, and is about sixty feet above the river. On both sides of the Fraser and the Nechaco there are large areas of first-class agricultural lands. I travelled about ten miles east of the Fraser over some of these lands and from what I saw I believe the country is susceptible of rich development as a farming country. I saw wild peavine, wild timothy, redtop, and other wild grasses in profusion. At the time of my stay here was selling for $50 a ton.

AT THE THEATRES

AT THE LYCEUM

Sherman's Musical Comedy Company have been handing out a musical comedy the last few days which has been the most appreciated offering they have yet produced.

So well has this show gone with the patrons of the Lyceum that Tom Beeson, the producer, has decided to offer the company equally as funny, entitled "My Wife's Mother," which will start Thursday at the matinee and will run three nights with a matinee every day. "My Wife's Mother" is a concoction of mirth and music, none too deep for the average patron of the Lyceum, an antidote to a suggestion of seriousness which invariably accompany the musical shows of the present day.

The chorus will be seen in a number of new songs and dances and the little dancing girls should make many new friends for their clever work. Every member will be cast in a comedy part and this should be one of the best shows they have yet produced.

SOLVED THE PROBLEM

"Pedro, I owe you about three thousand francs," said a Parisian grocer to his shopman. "Yes, sir," "I have two thousand francs in the safe, but the shop is empty; I think it is the right moment to fail." "That's just what I think," "But I want a plausible pretext for my creditors. You have plenty of brains; think the matter over to-night and to-morrow morning." The clerk promised to think it carefully over. On entering the store the next morning, the grocer found the safe open, the money gone and in its place a note, which ran as follows: "I have taken the two thousand francs, and am off to America. It is the best excuse you can give to your creditors."

Stretching It

Mrs. Murphy, her head swathed in bandages stood in the witness-box. Her husband, Patrick Murphy, occupied the prisoner's dock, and the charge was that he had brutally assaulted the lady whom he ought to have loved. But Mrs. Murphy was not the woman to say a word against her husband. She insisted that he was the embodiment of all the virtues, and accounted for her bruises as the result of "pure accidents."

"Now, look here," said the magistrate, angrily, "I must remind you that this is a court of law, and that perjury is a criminal offence. Be careful who you say. It was he that bit your ear in such a shocking manner!" The poor creature hesitated for a moment—it appeared that wifely loyalty was about to succumb—then she smiled reassuringly at the man in the dock. "Please sir," she faltered, "I—bit it myself."

As Others See Her.

Her Sweetheart—"The dearest little woman in all the world."

Mother—"She would only regard my wishes more."

Father—"She's cost enough to bring up, still—"

Brother—"She'd be all right if she'd take a little advice from me."

Optimist—"Thank heaven for putting such a glorious creature on earth!"

Old Friend—"She's a fine girl, but she is changeable."

Disappointed Lover—"She talks too much."

Rival—"Her figure's all right, thanks to her dressmaker."

Critic—"Poh! She's like all the rest."

Maid—"I know why she appears so beautiful."

LEPROSY MAKING ITS LAST STAND

Science Isolates Leprosy Bacilli and Will Now Try to Find Serum for Cure

Washington, D.C., Aug. 31.—Leprosy, the un conquered scourge of the age, is making what is believed to be its last stand against science. From Molekai, the coal island prison of the plague-stricken district in the Hawaiian group, a few words have been flashed half-way around the world to Washington telling of an achievement accounted second only to the discovery of the lepra bacillus by Hansen in 1879.

Three surgeons of the United States public health and marine hospital service, after months of unremitting toil, have grown lepra bacilli in pure culture outside the human body, and in tiny thin glass tubes in the laboratory the loathsome germs are now growing in their third generation.

Four times the scientists have taken the infection from the body of a leper and artificially propagated the bacillus on beef broth, egg or the amoeba of the intestines of a guinea pig.

The work of Dr. Moses T. Clegg, who declared less than a year ago at Manila that he had found that the bacillus out of the human body could be propagated, is verified and extended.

Dr. Clegg has been rushed from the Manila scientific station to Molekai to assist in the experiment.

This achievement of the scientists at the government leprosy investigation station is the first step in the production of a vaccine or a serum for the cure or prevention of leprosy. Precisely the same ground has been taken as was adopted by the men who evolved the diphtheria anti-toxin and the serum for tetanus. In each of these cases, the growing of the germs in pure culture has been the stepping stone to the cure.

"To bad," will be the remark made by every one failing to hear Dr. Clegg's lecture, Friday evening at McDougall Methodist Church. Tickets 25c.

METHODIST CONFERENCE

Sessions Held Yesterday at Which Many Important Affairs Were Discussed

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 31.—At the morning session of the general conference of the Methodist Church yesterday, a memorial to admit women into the conference, was under discussion for a lively ten minutes. It was a delicate thing to handle directly, so the opposers plead that it was too important to take up after so many delegates had left.

Justice McLaren thought it was a constitutional question and might prejudice the union negotiations. The vote stood thirty-four in favor and sixty-four against.

The recommendation for quarterly boards to make provision for an annual vacation for the pastor carried enthusiastically.

Provision is made for home regular annual congregational meetings to hear reports and consult about the work of the church, Associate superintendents of the Sunday School are made members of the quarterly board if members of the church.

A Layman's Association asked that their proceedings be read before the conference, not only for "information" as at present, but for consideration. Considerable debate was stirred up by them.

Several hymns spoke claiming that they did not have a fair chance to be heard by the conference, and declaring that if this were turned down a line of cleavage would be made between the laymen and the ministers.

The report of the temperance and moral reform department came up this afternoon. Race track gambling was condemned. H. H. Miller, M.P., was honorably mentioned for his assistance in applying for legislation. Reports were expressed over the opposition to the bill by the minister of justice.

Strong disapproval was expressed against the practice of employing Indians for exhibition purposes in Western Canada. The department of Indian affairs is to be urged to prevent the transportation of intoxicating liquors into any province of Canada under prohibition law.

WILL START GRADING

The right of way of the branch line of the G. T. P. to the Embarras coal fields is cleared and grading will begin immediately.

ONE BLOCK OF COAL WEIGHING 1500 LBS.

Was One of the Exhibits at the First Annual Fair at Entwistle Yesterday

A considerable number of Edmonton people went out to Entwistle on the special G.T.P. train yesterday morning to attend the first annual fair held at that place. In spite of the threatening weather the exhibition was in every way a success and gave fitting proof of the substantial prospects of the country.

Naturally the exhibits were composed of specimens of the natural resources of the district.

A block of coal weighing 1,500 pounds, taken from their property was shown by the Pembina Coal Company. There was also sandstone exhibited by the Entwistle Development Company, and lumber by Hissop and Goodridge.

In the recent interest was shown by the average man in the agricultural products, particularly wheat and barley. The samples shown were as good as any that could be selected throughout the West. Alfalfa, strange to say, claimed its place and it may be significant of the future of the country for stock raising. Of course, as everywhere here in Central Alberta, there were vegetable gardens. A mammoth turnip weighing twenty-five pounds came in for a good deal of attention. It was grown some four miles east of Entwistle.

Perhaps, however, the largest proportion of visitors went out to see for themselves the prospects and the developments of the country along the line. Great changes have taken place at all points, and the land is being put into shape, and everything thing considered, on can travel with some degree of comfort. The people to the west of us are energetic at all events, and it is not their fault if the country fails to go ahead. To Mr. A. W. Armp of the Pembina Outlook, and Mr. W. Lefevre, chairman of the Fair Committee is due in great measure the success of this, Entwistle's baby fair.

LAURIER AT FERNIE AND CRANBROOK B.C.

Cranbrook, B. C., Aug. 31.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the rink meeting in Cranbrook this afternoon placed a mark of strong approval on Malcolm A. MacDonald, a young Liberal politician of Cranbrook. Mr. MacDonald was the Liberal candidate in Cranbrook for the British Columbia house at the last election and was defeated by Tom Cavan. Hon. William Templeman in his address suggested to the people of Cranbrook that Mr. MacDonald be the candidate in the constituency for the local house. The premier in his address stated that he had something better to suggest. "Here and now," said Sir Wilfrid, "let us nominate Mr. MacDonald as the standard bearer of the party in the next federal campaign."

Crow's Nest Pass Road Reference was made to the construction of the Crow's Nest Pass railway and to the aid which the Dominion government had given to that road amounting to three and a half million dollars.

Referring to the clause in the civic address which welcomed him to Western Canada, Sir Wilfrid expressed the hope that in coming years less would be heard of the West and the East and that people would speak of the Dominion as a whole.

The town was decorated for the occasion of the visit and a large crowd with a band met the party at the depot, where the civic addresses were read by Mayor Fink.

Reference was made in the address to the need of a new post office. The appropriation for this building has been made, but an early commencement of the work was asked.

From the depot the party was taken to the rink in a number of automobiles and addresses were given by Ralph Smith, Hon. William Templeman, Hon. Geo. P. Graham and by the Premier.

Open-Air Meeting at Fernie Fernie, B. C., Aug. 31.—Re-arranged Fernie welcomed Sir Wilfrid to-night and the premier delivered his concluding address in the province of British Columbia. The gathering was held in the open air. Mayor Herche-mer read the civic address from the steps of the office of the coal company, before which a great crowd had assembled. Rain fell during the time of the speech-making, but not heavily enough to interfere seriously with the comfort of the audience.

Some men are sure they were meant for a better world because they have made such a mess of this one.

each one taking a different district to scour. It fell to Constable Warrior to search along the river bank.

After a ride of about two and a half miles, Warrior from the crest of the hill saw the prisoner at the foot of it. "Halt!" called out Constable Warrior.

The convict stopped and faced the constable.

"What do you want?" he asked.

"I want you," returned the constable, who by this time was fingering his revolver.

Landon, seeing that resistance was useless, ascended the hill, and surrendered.

Warrior and his prisoner returned in the direction of the penitentiary, but they had not gone far before they met Warden McCauley and a guard in a buggy, in which the prisoner was placed. It was the warden's intention to see that the Clover Bar bridge was covered, and also to warn residents of the district.

On the journey back to the penitentiary, Landon expressed his regret to the warden for having made the attempt, but explained that the lure of liberty was too strong to resist.

The convict, according to the warden, had up to the present given the prison authorities no trouble whatever, and was an ideal prisoner. He had been engaged on outside work for over a year. His attempted escape, therefore, was somewhat of a surprise.

This is his first term in prison, but it is understood that he is wanted at points in the western states.

On the arrival at the penitentiary,

Landon was immediately placed in the dungeon, where he will remain until further orders. It is likely that he will have to stand his trial for prison breaking as well as having to serve the time that otherwise would have been remitted, if he had kept up his usual standard of good conduct. The time would amount to about 200 days.

An accident which might have been as serious for the rider as it was for the horse occurred at the corner of Jasper Avenue and Syndicate, when Corporal Marshall, who was one of the mounted police detailed to chase Landon, was riding at top speed, along with the other five policemen, to the penitentiary. At the corner, the horse slipped, and in falling broke its neck.

Corporal Marshall managed to save himself from injury and was not long before he had secured another mount, and had caught up to his companions.

SETTLER GETS C.N.R.

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Late last night Mayor Grigg received the following wire from Winnipeg from R. V. L. Shaw, M.L.A.:

"Canadian Northerners have instructed their engineer to survey new line one or two miles long branching off from present location, making the north line nearer Settler. All passenger trains will run to Settler, and all Brazeau business handled at Settler office."

A burglar in Welland broke into the police magistrate's residence, helped himself to the contents of the wine cellar and then laid down for a sleep in the judge's spare bed. When brought up for trial in the morning he was promptly given three months for contempt of court.

PORTUGAL TAKES ANTI-VATICAN STEP

Premier Sousa Follows Spain's Lead—Will Likely Result in Breach With Rome

Lisbon, Aug. 30.—Following the lead of Premier Canalejas, of Spain, Premier Sousa to-day ordered a vigorous inquiry into the status of the religious orders in Portugal. Special attention will be paid to foreign clerical orders, many of which, it is expected will be cancelled.

The action of Premier Sousa indicates a complete understanding between him and the Spanish government, the existence of which has been hinted at ever since Spala began his anti-clerical reform. It will probably result in a breach between the Vatican and Portugal similar to that between the Spanish government and the Vatican.

King Manuel is believed to be wholly in sympathy with the contemplated reforms.

LABOR SUNDAY

Labor Sunday will be suitably observed at the First Baptist Church. A mass meeting for men only will be held at 3 p. m. at which Rev. F. W. Patterson will give an address on "Some Ethical Aspects of the Labor Movement." Good music. A cordial invitation is given to all men to be present at the evening service. Mr. Patterson will preach on "Getting a Living."

Q.O.R. IS HAVING ALL KINDS OF FUN

Received in Great Style by England—Invitations and Challenges Galore

(Canadian Associated Press.) London, August 31.—Criticism of the Queen's Own Rifles are cordial, and the Canadians compare favorably with the regulars in physique, and their drill, although not perfect, is very good. Appreciation is expressed of the work of the initiative displayed by the section commanders, which promises well for the coming spell of maneuvering with the British troops. General Lawson at the conclusion of yesterday morning's drill said he was quite satisfied with both the promise and the performance of the Canadians. An eight mile march was performed in crisp style. A cordial relationship has been established with the regulars, and the officers mess of the Q.O.R. is flooded with offers of membership from various clubs and messes. Challenge to athletic contests, including baseball and cricket matches have already been exchanged. Londoners want the regiment to march through the city, and also desire a Lord Mayor's reception. The soldiers are assured of a great welcome if this can be arranged.

JUVENILE CRIME IN LONDON

London, Ont., Aug. 30.—As a result of the worst outbreak of juvenile crime in the city's history, Crown Attorney McKillop has avowed very strongly to the use of the lash and it has been further proposed to do away with the juvenile court entirely and have all under sixteen years come up in common court.

The Peace River Wagon Road

Now under construction, with Entwistle as the starting point, is 200 miles shorter than the present trail. Thousands of settlers will use this road next winter and the following spring, making Entwistle their base of supplies, and offering wonderful opportunity to those with foresight and decision to seize it promptly.

The Western Canada Coal Co.

Control 10,000 acres of surface and coal rights adjoining the town of Entwistle, for which they paid $1,100,000. This property is now being developed on a large scale, over forty men being employed at the present time. The company expects to be operating in October, and to have an output of 500 tons per day, which will be gradually increased to 1,000 tons per day.

The Black Diamond Coal Co.

Recently incorporated in the State of Washington, with a capital of $3,000,000, announce that they have acquired 4,480 acres of coal rights at Entwistle, and that development work will start at once. These two companies will employ upwards of 1,000 men in the course of the next few months.

Lumber Mills

At Entwistle employ forty men at the present time.

The Grand Trunk Pacific

Reached Entwistle ten months ago, and the development of the wonderful natural resources of the Pembina River immediately started, and today the development work has reached the stage where it is assured hundreds of men will be employed in mines, quarries and lumber mills.

The Canadian Northern Railway

Will lay steel into Entwistle this fall, furnishing the second transcontinental railroad, and offering mine owners, lumbermen and merchants competitive rates. Entwistle will be the terminus of the C.N.R. for one year, while their high level bridge over the Pembina River is being built. There is no other city in the Province where there is so much development work taking place. Entwistle is bound to be a city, and in the immediate future. Every indication points to a rapid increase in the value of

CALGARY WILL WINTER PLAYERS

Calgary, Aug. 31.—Calgary will have a baseball team in its midst all this winter, and no doubt fans will be getting a game around Christmas. Players who will remain in Calgary are Chesty Cox, Moose Baxter, John Baxter, Hugh Kellackey, Fredie Manning, Peter Standridge, Duggan and Chuck Connors.

Moose Baxter intends starting a business—in all probability a pool room—and he looks favorably on Calgary. Kellackey will remain and he has already secured a good position here. Manning, Pete Duggan and Chuck also want to stick around, and as soon as the ball season is over they will hunt up positions.

PRESIDENT ECKSTROM NOW SEES BILL CARNEY IN THE TRUE LIGHT

THINKS WILLIAM C. IS TOO TRICKY AND ORDERS THE THREE GAMES TO BE PLAYED—CHANGES ON TEAM—COX MAY BE BENCHED.

(Special to The Daily Capital.)

Calgary, Aug. 31.—Manager Bill Carney is a very wise chap in some things, but there is such a thing as going too far. Well, Bill is a mistake attempt to put something over, failed miserably, and his team is in exactly the same position as on Saturday night. And here is how it happened.

The sun was shining brightly at 12 o'clock yesterday noon when Bill dropped into Chan's place and calmly announced there would be no game on account of wet grounds. There had been a small shower the night before but nothing to make the diamond unplayable, so your representative set sail for the ball park to personally examine the field. As expected the diamond was not in bad shape. There were wet spots at short and second base, while the pitcher's box and the other bases were fairly dry. This was at twelve o'clock and the grounds were rapidly drying up.

Sill Carney, with the idea of evading the issue, declared the game off and killed a double-header for today, knowing it is a very seldom one team wins both ends.

While walking along the street I chanced to run into Mr. Nicholson, sporting editor of the Lethbridge Herald, and explained the whole situation to him. Nicholson said he was not prejudiced either way, but he wanted to see a sure deal, so he decided to examine the grounds and report his decision to President Eckstrom. Accompanied by Manager White representing Edmonton, and Joe Moir, a well known Calgary curler, Nicholson visited and examined the diamond.

President Eckstrom was phoned to and told the grounds were in shape to play on, and further that if any attention had been given them in the morning they would have been in first class shape.

Nationals are Welcome

Montreal, Aug. 30.—According to despatches from the Coast, Westminster will welcome a visit from the Nationals this fall. The salmonbellies adopt the same attitude as they did when they heard of Regina's monster preparations for the invasion of the coast a year ago. "Let them all come," they cry, "We'll take them all on." And so far the defenders have had small cause to change their tune, for they have handled all challengers with ease.

And by the way, what a bonanza that Minto Cup has proved to the Royal City. Seldom in a Minto Cup fixture is less than $3,000 netted, and the rules call for two matches in each town. Last year they had Regina and Temechees, this year Montreal and Nationals. At the least these four series have been worth $15,000.

By the way the news is current upon the coast that the balance of the season there will not be played out. New Westminster cannot now be beaten out for the championship, even though they lost all the remaining games. And as small interest attaches to games which are played only because they have been scheduled, Con Jones thinks it better to cut down his salary list by calling it off. That is one reason why the league is sought to be enlarged and a reason also why the Nationals may expect to get dates this year.

MINERS BEAT SASKATOON

Lethbridge, Aug. 31.—The Lethbridge Miners had easy pickings off Saskatoon today, winning by a score of 10 to 2. Grimes eased up in the ninth when the visitors got their only run. The whole game was listless, with occasional sharp fielding features provided by Wilson, Miller, Oriet and Benet.

Score by innings—

Saskatoon	000 000 002—2 8 4
Lethbridge	300 000 700—10 10 4

BRANDON WON BOTH

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Brandon came to life today, taking both games of a double header from the Maroons. There was not much interest in the games and the players did not show the usual vim. The game was listless, with occasional sharp plays. Brandon got away with them both, though they had no right to the second.

CALGARY HEARS OF LIBEL SUIT

An Edmonton newspaper man, who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to witness the remainder of the series, made a statement to that effect.

This had not definitely been decided upon, but the directors have talked such and will further consider the matter when Deacon gets back to Edmonton.

Author of "Hearts Courageous," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1908, THE DODDS-MERRILL COMPANY

no doubt. She laid the draft between the printed leaves, beyond the marker. Then, replacing the volume on the shelf, she ran from the door and hastened back up the steep trail to the Knave.

Leaning back against the warm rock, lapped in the serene peacefulness of the spot, Jessica fell into reverie. Never since her wedding day had she said to herself boldly "I love him"—never till yesterday. Now all was changed. Her thoughts were a tremulous assurance: "I shall stay here near him day after day, watching. Some day his memory will come back, and then my love will comfort him. The town will forget it has hated and will come to honor him. Some time, seeing how he is changed, his father will forgive him and take him back, and we shall all three go home to the white house in the aspens. If not, then my place will still be with Hugh. Perhaps we shall live here. Perhaps a cabin like that will be home, and I shall live with him and work with him and care for him."

Thus she dreamed—a new day dream, unravaged by the sordid tests of verity.

So absorbed was she that she did not hear a step approaching over the springy moss, a sharply broken breath as the intruder stifled an exclamation. She had drawn her handkerchief across her eyes against the dancing glimmer of sunlight. Suddenly it dropped to her lap, and she half turned.

In an instant of surprise, as Harry's look flashed into hers, a name sprang unbidden to her lips—a name that struck his strained face to sudden whiteness, ringing in his ears like the note of a sunken bell. All that was clamoring in him for speech rushed into words.

"You call my name?" he cried. "You know me! Have I ever been 'Hugh' to you? Your face, that white land across your eyes, your voice, they came to me like something far away that I have known. I was mistaken. I was crazy to think that you!"

He stopped. A wave of sympathy passed over her. She felt a mad wish to throw all aside, to cry to him: "You did know me! You loved me once! I am Jessica—I am your wife!" So intense was her emotion that it seemed to her as if she had spoken his name again audibly, but her lips had not moved, and the tap of a woodpecker on a nearby trunk sounded with harsh distinctness.

"I have wanted to speak to you," she said after an instant in which she struggled for self control. "You did a brave thing yesterday—a splendid thing. It saved me from sorrow all my life!"

He put aside her thanks with a gesture. "You saved me also. You found me ill and suffering, and your horse carried me to my cabin."

"I want to tell you," she went on hastily, her fingers faling, "that I do not judge you as others do. I know about your past life—what you have forgotten. I know you have put it all behind you."

His face changed swiftly. Today the determination with which he had striven to put from his mind the problem of his clouded past had broken down. In the light of the change which had been flung in his teeth the afternoon before, his imagination had dwelt intolerably on it.

"You know?" he said hoarsely. "At you say that? They stoned me in the street the day I came back. Yesterday they counted me a thief. It is like a hideous nightmare that I can't wake from. Who am I? Where did I come from?"

TAKING PRECAUTIONS

A "briefcase" young London barrister with an air of scarcely being able to find time to do anything—when his boy tracked him down in one of the corridors.

"Oh, sir!" cried the boy, "there is a man at your office with a brief, sir." "What, a brief! Great heavens!"

And the young fellow began to run through the passages as fast as he could for fear the prey should escape him.

"Stop, sir, stop!" cried the boy, who could scarcely keep pace. "You needn't hurry, sir; I've locked him in!"

Look at that! I have not seen for years or ever before! Can you imagine what that means?"

She came close to him and touched his arm.

"I know all that you suffer," she said. "You are doing the strong thing, the brave thing! The man in you is not astray now; it was lost, but it has found its way back. When your memory comes you will see that this is the way that has been leading you. There was nothing in your past that cannot be buried and forgotten. What I have been saying to you will never be again. I know that! I saw you fight Devil, and I know why you did it. I heard you play the violin. Whatever has been, I have faith in you now!"

She spoke breathlessly, in very abandon, carried away by her feeling. As she spoke he had turned toward her, his pale face flushed, his eyes leaping up like hungry fires, devouring her face. At the look timidity rushed upon her. She stopped abruptly and took a startled step from him.

He turned from her instantly. His hands dropped at his sides. The word that had almost sprung to speech had slipped back into the void.

"I thank you for the charity you have for me," he said, "which I so very deserve. I—I shall always remember it."

She hesitated an instant, made as if to speak. Then, turning, she went quickly from him. At the edge of the bushes she stopped with a sudden impulse. She looked at the handkerchief she held. Some tiny lettering was embossed in its corner, the word "Jessica."

She glanced behind her. He had not moved. Reeling it into a ball, she threw it back over the bushes, then ran on hastily through the trees.

After a time Harry turned slowly, his shoulders lifting in a deep respiration. The white and filmy carnation caught his eye lying at the base of the great knoll on which he went to lie, picked it up and looked at it closely.

"Jessica!" he whispered. The name clung about him. The very leaves repeated it in music. He had a curious sensation, as if while she spoke that very name had half framed itself in some curtained recess of his thought. He pressed the handkerchief to his lips. The faint perfume it exhaled, like the dust of dried roses, gave him a ghostly impression of the familiar.

He struck his forehead sharply with his open hand.

THE WHISPERERS

Look at old Mag Carmody an' Anastasia Moore, Sittin' in the corner wid their elbows on their knees,

Wid their bony backs bent over an' their worn hands clasped before 'em like a pair o' buzzing bees. Wasps, more like, you'd call them for the talk your fancy hears Passin' now between them wid a sting in every word.

Talk, ye think, would have the neighbors tingling at the ears. Wid de heat of anger and resentment if they heard.

So, if you'd your way, Faith, belike you'd say: "Rise up, whisperin' gossips, rise! Save your scandals and your lies: Time enough for bitterness when wintry days tell."

But the year is at the spring. Joy an' kindness are a-wing; Even wasps are layin' now upon the sunny wall."

Look upon the whisperers again—an' hang your head:

Look upon them kindly for not long you'll know their likes.

These are of the troublous days when whisper'ing was bred By the roar o' tyrant guns an' clash o' patriot pipes, Innocent an' simple is the talk that now they make,

Chat of olden buried things, for thoughts of age are long. They've no need to whisper, still a habit hard to break.

An' wid two to nurse the same, sure they keep it strong.

So, if you'd be kind, "Thus you'll speak your mind: 'Rise up, dear old women, rise! Come an' take your fill o' talk an' share the genial sun; Here the year is at the spring, Joy and kindness are a-wing: Come, forget the bitterness o' time that's dead an' gone."

—T. A. Daly, in Catholic Standard and Times.

'Tis Often True.

The burlesque comedian had described the "artist's studio" act he was trying to put into vanguard. "Just let me put it on for one night," he pleaded "and you'll be turning the people away for the rest of my engagement."

"That's exactly what I'd be doing," dryly replied the decent, vandyke manager; "but it would take weeks and weeks of coaxing to get all those people back again."

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

There was a large attendance at the Temperance meeting held at the Orphan Theatre on Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Temperance and Mutual Reform League, when Dr. Edgar Allan gave the address on "The Action of Alcohol on the Human Body."

His clear and out-spoken manner in dealing with the subject was warmly received. Taking as illustrations cases with which he had come in contact during his practice, he showed the hereditary effect the use of alcohol had upon families, showing itself in different forms, such as insanity, paralysis, etc.

The profession was rapidly changing its methods in treating disease without recourse to alcohol, which once would have been impossible. Mr. J. L. King was the soloist and the chair was taken by Mr. J. J. Hilton.

Next Sunday it is expected that a temperance film will be shown.

WHEN MOTHER TOOK TO SLANG

Once mother broke out into slang! We'd often heard her say Naught else was talked around her From dawn till close of day.

And mother she was joyful, "They've put me wise!" cried she, "It knocks me how I used to talk! But, sure, that's one on me!"

When mother took to talking slang It was a mournful day, And dad and all us children

Just listened in dismay; But mother, she was merry: "Oh, drop it now!" quoth she, "Cut out the grouchy; come, be a sport, Or else the joke's on me!"

When mother took to talking slang The household speechless grew, And father groaned and sister moaned.

And all us children, too: Still mother dear was happy: "You love it so," said she, "I've learned it good and plenty, And I hope you're pleased with me!"

MODERN LIFE WOULD BE TOO HARD ON THE NERVES IF IT WERE NOT FOR WANT ADVERTISING!

The pace of life has become tense.

Worries, disappointments, up-sets at home and office, losses, discouragements seem to multiply as daily life becomes more complex.

The property owner, who MUST have a steady income from rents or lose his property, is "racked" by the untimely defection of a tenant. Some classified advertising quickly retrieves his loss—and quiets his nerves!

The salary earner unexpectedly loses his position—and his peace of mind. The strain would shortly "break" something in his nervous system if, once more, want advertising did not find the better job—and restore to him his mental equilibrium.

In every phase of the city's life, every day, the want ads play the part of the peace-maker. They SERVE you and me at some crisis in our lives—and keep the modern pace and tension from proving too fast and tight for us.

Truly, the want ads ARE FOR SERVICE!

INJURIES FROM FALL MAY RESULT IN DEATH

Chris Creamer, Who Fell From Scaffold at Power House, Still in Danger

Chris Creamer, who fell from the scaffolding erected around the new power house yesterday lies in the general hospital in a critical condition. Several ribs on the left side are fractured, one of them entering the lungs. His collar bone is also dislocated. He spent a fair night last night and is slightly better this morning, but the doctors will not give any definite statement as to whether he will live or not.

Creamer was in charge of the construction work which is completed for by S. Childs, who is at present out of the city. At 3:45 yesterday the scaffolding was being removed, and very little remained to support the planks on which Creamer was standing. His partner J. W. Readman, realized the danger, but Creamer would not get down with him, and remained on the scaffolding.

The swaying scaffolding gave way and Creamer fell with a crash onto the concrete floor of the engine room 30 feet below.

PROTECTION WAS NOT SUFFICIENT

Jury Recommends Legislation to Guard Shafting in Mills, But Is Difficult Matter

The jury at the inquest on the body of Bart Wendell, who was killed by being caught in the shafting at Anderson's brick yard on Monday night, found that he died from injuries received by being whirled round the shafting, and further found that the shafting was not sufficiently safeguarded and recommended that the provincial government take steps to secure such legislation as will protect employees engaged on the machinery. W. H. Gardner was the foreman of the jury and the inquest was conducted by Dr. Forin.

The jury recommended that the government secure legislation to protect employees from machinery without any suggestion as to how protection could be afforded. The shafting is just an ordinary three-inch shaft with a wheel on each end. The one on the left being driven by a wide belt from the engine and the one on the right driving another wide belt to the crusher. Even were there any wire fenders around the shaft they would have to be removed to enable the roller to fill the oil cups above the shaft. In all the big machine shops of the country the rollers' job is regarded as a dangerous one, which requires great vigilance on his part, but none of the shafting is fenced in. Carelessness, through familiarity, had no doubt a great deal to do with Wendell's death. This opinion was expressed by the manager of the yards, Mr. Adams.

Friday, the 2nd of September at 8:15 p.m. at McDougall Church is the time and place of the lecture "Jean Val Jean," by Dr. Cleaver, of Trinity Methodist Church, Toronto. Tickets 25c.

is just an ordinary three-inch shaft with a wheel on each end. The one on the left being driven by a wide belt from the engine and the one on the right driving another wide belt to the crusher. Even were there any wire fenders around the shaft they would have to be removed to enable the roller to fill the oil cups above the shaft. In all the big machine shops of the country the roller's job is regarded as a dangerous one, which requires great vigilance on his part; but none of the shafting is fenced in.

Carelessness, through familiarity, had no doubt a great deal to do with Wendell's death. This opinion was expressed by the manager of the yards,
Mr. Adams.
